

Turing in Homework

Any assignment not adhering to these guidelines will not be graded.

Collaboration is important in all areas of study. So I recommend talking to other students for help. However, there is a rule that must be followed: while discussing homework solutions in a group of two or more no one is allowed to write anything down, and each student must prepare their solution in isolation.