

Takeaways

- Attack Trees can be modeled as formulas in resource-sensitive logics.
- Analysis of Attack Trees can be automated using their logical semantics.
- Lina is a functional programming language that supports this new perspective.

