Where do I fit in?

I work on the design and analysis of the next generation of programming languages that support software verification.